1. Right of Use

The document is to be published under the following license:

- Copyrighted
- CC-BY
- CC-BY-SA
- CC-BY-ND
- Other:

2. Embargo Period

- Publication is to be delayed through an embargo period.

Please note: The publication will only be delayed if an „Antrag auf aufgeschobene Veröffentlichung“ (Application for Delayed Publication, download here: <https://openscience.ub.uni-mainz.de/static/docs/Embargoformular.pdf> (link and application in German)) is submitted along with this deposit license.

Concession of Rights

I hereby grant Johannes Gutenberg University (JGU) Mainz the right to make my document accessible for free use on the internet according to the licensing conditions below. Users will have the right to use the publication without payment of a fee and according to copyright law and, in particular, to download the publication for private use, to save it, or to print a small number of copies.

License Conditions:

1. Concession of Rights

The author/co-author grants JGU the irrevocable, non-exclusive right to make the publication accessible to the public for an unlimited time, to archive it on JGU's document server and to duplicate it for these purposes. With this license, the protection through copyright remains intact. The upload of the document does not result in a legally binding right for the publication to be made available or to be archived.

2. Long-term Archiving and Conversion into Different Formats

The author/co-author grants JGU the right to store the provided documents in their own long-term archives and, if necessary (in case of migration, accessibility, better access or indexing, for example), to convert the documents into other electronic and physical formats.

3. Transfer of Metadata and Documents

The author/co-author grants JGU the right to make the document's metadata available to other databases free of charge. Furthermore, they grant JGU the right to make the document available to third parties within the framework of national collection mandates, for purposes of long-term archiving, for online accessibility, or archiving.

4. Third-Party Rights

The author declares that the rights of third parties (such as co-authors, publishing houses, copyright collectives, external funding providers) are not violated by making the document and its components (such as images) available. The author guarantees that the document does not contain the personal data of third parties covered by underlying data protection laws, or that consent for the use of personal data has been granted (see below). The author affirms they will inform JGU without delay in cases of doubt or if such legal obstacles should arise. The author absolves JGU of any third-party claims. JGU has the right to block and delete the document in case of concrete signs of a violation of third-party rights.

5. Subsequent Removal of the Publication

In exceptional cases, the author can apply for their publication to be removed if this is also in JGU's interest. The removal can only take place once this application has been approved by the University Library. In case of removal from the University Library and the DNB, no guarantee can be made that no copy still exists on the internet.

6. Additional Regulations for Examination Papers

6.1. If the document is an examination paper, the author guarantees that the submitted electronic version is identical with the approved original version. Those parts of the documents which are subject to data protection are exempted.

6.2. Advisor recommendation

If the document is a master's thesis, the publication can only take place with the following, explicit recommendation from the advisor:

"Ich habe diese Arbeit im Studiengang betreut und empfehle ihre Veröffentlichung in der Datenbank Gutenberg Open Science der JGU." ("I supervised this thesis and recommend its publication in JGU's Gutenberg Open Science database")

Declarations on Data Protection

If names are mentioned within an advising or supporting capacity or acknowledgements are given to specific persons, the following declarations of consent are necessary:

Advisor Declaration

Often both authors of and advisors to final theses desire the depiction of this advisory relationship in the thesis publication. The following is the advisor's declaration of consent for the use of their name within the framework of the thesis publication, as well as for entry of their name as advisor of the thesis when the work is cataloged. If consent is granted, the catalog entry is linked with the integrated authority files (GND) of the German National Library. This allows for an unambiguous connection of the advisor with the relevant works.

- I consent to the following data processing.
- I do not consent to the following data processing.*

If consent for data processing is granted, the following is to be noted:

Purpose and Legal Basis for the Processing of Personal Data (Art. 13 Subsection 1 Lit. c GDPR)

The processing takes place for the purpose mentioned above. The final thesis is published with the advisor's name. Furthermore, the name is recorded in an integrated authority file (GND). These authority file represents and describes entities, i.e. persons, corporate bodies, conferences, geographic entities, topics and works relating to cultural and academic collections mainly used for cataloging purposes by libraries and which is cooperatively managed by the German National Library, all library networks of the German-speaking countries and their participating libraries, the German

Union Catalogue of Serials, and many other institutions (compare to https://www.dnb.de/EN/Professionell/Standardisierung/GND/gnd_node.html).

Provided we have the users' consent to process their personal data, Art. 6 Subsection 1 Lit. a of the GDPR is the legal basis for the processing.

Recipients or Categories of Recipients (Art. 13 Subsection 1 Lit. e GDPR)

The data are transferred to the German National Library (DNB). They will furthermore be made publicly accessible world-wide as they will be accessible via internet.

Storage Period (Art. 13 Subsection 2 Lit. a GDPR)

Deletion of the data is not intended since long-term storage is planned.

Rights of the Data Subject (Art. 13 Subsection 2 Lit. b bis c GDPR)

If your data is being processed, you have the right to obtain the following information according to the GDPR:

- Right of access regarding the storage of your personal data (Art. 15 GDPR).
- Right to rectification in case your data is wrong or incomplete (Art. 16 GDPR).
- Right to erasure of your personal data as long as one of the grounds applies according to Art. 17 GDPR. Art. 17 Subsection 3 GDPR contains exceptions from the right to erasure in cases where the processing is necessary for exercising the right of freedom of expression and information; for compliance with a legal obligation which requires processing, or for the performance of a task carried out in interest of public health; for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes; or for the establishment, exercise, or defense of legal claims.
- Right to restriction of processing, especially when the accuracy of your personal data is contested, for a period enabling the controller to verify the accuracy of the personal data, if the processing is unlawful and you oppose the erasure of the personal data and request the restriction of their use instead, if you need the personal data for the establishment, exercise, or defense of legal claims and the data therefore cannot be erased, or you have objected to processing pursuant to Art. 21 Subsection 1 of the GDPR and the verification of whether the controller's legitimate grounds override yours is pending.
- Right to data portability of your personal data (Art. 20 GDPR). Art. 20 Subsection 4 GDPR contains exceptions from the right to data portability. The rights and freedoms of other persons shall not be adversely affected by such transmissions. Furthermore, the right to data portability does not apply to the processing of personal data necessary for carrying out a task in the public interest.

- Right to withdraw consent at any time (Art. 7 Subsection 3 GDPR). The withdrawal of consent is only applicable for future processing and does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before its withdrawal.

Right to Lodge a Complaint (Art. 13 Subsection 2 Lit. d GDPR)

You have the right to lodge a complaint with the Rhineland-Palatinate State Commissioner for Data Protection and Freedom of Information if you believe that the processing of your personal data infringes the GDPR.

Please note:

If the advisor does not agree to the data processing, the relevant passages containing their name are to be blacked out. Cataloging will not take place in this case.

Declaration of Persons Active in a Supporting Capacity

Persons who have been active in a supporting capacity within the framework of the publication without being co-authors are often named in academic publications and final theses. These can be persons who carried out tasks in a laboratory or collected data. Publication of the work with the names of these persons and the corresponding cataloging requires their declaration of consent according to data protection laws.
